

the United States, as well as from far-off England.

To all inquiries it may be stated by one who is entirely disinterested that contributions of any and every kind will be thankfully accepted. The special need, however, will be money, as homes for the homeless must be secured at once and new bridges be built to take the place of those swept away. The money received will be judiciously expended, as the members of the various committees embrace the best-known citizens, whose honesty and business capacity has never been questioned.

The loss sustained will approximate at least $2,000,000. This includes the buildings destroyed, bridges swept away and the damage done to the various streets throughout the city.

The telegraph operators here have worked hard and faithfully, some of them never having left their chairs since early Sunday morning. In addition to the vast amount of food and fire matter sent out they have handled an unusually large number of messages from far-off friends and relatives, as well as the telegrams of inquiry and contributions.

Though tired and weary with their long hours and loss of sleep they continue at their work uncomplainingly, realizing that a terrible disaster has befallen their city and that they must do their part to aid in its restoration.

The coroner's jury this morning made a trip over the ground where the lives were lost, picking up information. The men on the jury have no doubt that the disaster could not have been averted.

Mayor Grant Will Receive Funds.
Mayor Grant said this morning that he had received no request, either from the authorities of Titusville or Old City, or from the governor of Pennsylvania for subscriptions in aid of the sufferers by the fire and flood at those cities, but that he was willing to receive and forward any contributions that the people of New York might make for this purpose, and would see that such funds were forwarded to the proper authorities.

SCOTCH VERDICT FOR LISSNER.

His Accuser Failed to Prove that He Had Defrauded Any One.

Mayor's Marshal Knighthead rendered a Scotch verdict this morning in the case of Cecilio Lissner, of 1273 Broadway, who was before him on a very serious charge preferred by Pawnbroker W. A. Glover, of 102 West Thirty-eighth street.

Lissner had opened a pawnshop in the place formerly occupied by Glover, and the latter alleges that customers of his who called at his old place to renew pledges and pay interest have been defrauded. He says that Lissner accepted interest and granted extensions on pledges left with him (Glover) and when the owners finally learned that the (Glover) had moved and called on him to redeem their pledges they found they had been defrauded.

Lissner did not deny that he accepted interest on Glover's tickets, but said he did so merely as an accommodation, and with the intention of paying the interest to Glover.

Mr. Glover did not produce his witnesses, because, he said, the victims dreaded publicity in the matter.

The Mayor's Marshal let Lissner off with a caution, threatening to revoke his license if the offense alleged was repeated by him.

TWO WEDDINGS, ONE DIVORCE.

Mrs. Allen No. 1 Claims Both Marriages Preceded the Decree.

Sues Her Husband for Abandonment and His Parents for Damages.

A suit brought by Mrs. Margaret D. Allen, of 22 Columbus avenue, New York, against Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson, of 100 West 42nd street, was called on for trial this morning in the charge of alienating her husband's affections, is pending before Judge Barnard in White Plains.

The suit involves the sensational features of a young man's secret marriage against his parents' wishes, the desertion of the bride, the alleged second marriage of the husband before having obtained a divorce from his first wife, and finally one of the legal separations furnished by a judicial nickel-in-the-slot machine in Dakota.

Mrs. Allen's young husband was a stepson of Mrs. Johnson. She was Miss Margaret Kennedy. Allen and she met in 1883 while the Johnsons were running the Rhode Island House at Westbury, N. Y.

They became engaged and were secretly married on Nov. 27 of that year by Rev. R. H. Dodge, of New York. They returned to Westbury and kept the marriage secret.

On Jan. 31, 1884, Allen left his bride, saying that he wanted to be independent and would go out West and make a fortune. That was the last Mrs. Allen heard of her husband until 1890. In the mean time the Johnsons leased the Rhode Island House in New York.

In the summer of 1890 Allen suddenly appeared, and met him several times at the Rhode Island Hotel, near High Bridge. He gave her money—about $100 in all—but finally refused to have anything to do with her.

She engaged Lawyer William Cummings, of 1103 Broadway, who claims to have found out about Allen's second marriage and to have discovered that Allen was living with the second Mrs. Allen at the Rhode Island Hotel, near High Bridge.

Before proceedings were commenced against Allen he disappeared.

It is now known that he went to Dakota and secured a divorce from Mrs. Allen No. 1 on the claim that he was drunk when he married her.

After Allen went away the Johnsons took charge of the Rhode Island Hotel. The second Mrs. Allen lives with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson for alternating her husband's affections. She has also sued Mr. Allen for abandoning her. The latter case will come up June 17.

BUCHANAN IN COURT.

The Alleged Wife-Murderer Obtains a Delay of One Day.

Suspected of Poisoning a Woman He Had Married for Money.

His Arrest Due to Statements Made by Her Former Lover.

Dr. Robert W. Buchanan, of 207 West Eleventh street, appeared at the District Attorney's office at 10:40 o'clock this morning for arraignment on the charge of having killed his wife, Annie R. Buchanan, by the administration of poison. It was the intention to have Dr. Buchanan arraigned before Judge Martin in Part I of the Court of General Sessions at 11 o'clock to-day, but at the request of the accused's attorneys, Charles E. Davidson and Charles Brooke, a postponement was granted until 11 o'clock to-morrow.

The doctor was accompanied by the wife whom he remarried a month after his second wife's death. They were conducted into the District Attorney's private room, in which a long consultation was held by the doctor and his counsel.

Mrs. Buchanan had evidently been suffering more than her husband over the accusations. She wore a figured black satin dress, a black bonnet and a heavy black veil. She looked heavily on her husband's arm as they walked into the District Attorney's office, and kept her face turned from the view of bystanders.

When inside the office she lifted her veil and it was seen she had been crying. Her hair was tangled and disheveled, and her face was very pale.

Dr. Buchanan looked pale and careworn, too, and would speak to no one but his attorney. He was accompanied by his wife, who had been divorced from a wife in Halifax, before her marriage to Dr. Buchanan. Mrs. Buchanan lived at 371 Halsted street, Newark.

THE CZAR AND KAISER MEET.

On Their Imperial Yachts They Enter the Harbor at Kiel.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KIEL, June 7.—At 9 o'clock this morning Emperor William boarded the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern and started for Friedrichsruh to meet the Czar. The Hohenzollern was escorted by a despatch boat and another yacht. The yards of the vessels were manned and the Russian colors were hoisted.

An hour later the Hohenzollern returned in company with the Russian Imperial yacht, the Polar Star, on board of which was the Czar. Following closely in the wake of the Imperial yachts came the Russian war-ships, the Admiral Korniloff. The Russian Imperial fleet was loudly cheered upon entering the harbor by the crews of the German warships and merchantmen lying there and salutes from the warships were fired in honor of the Imperial visitor.

At 10:30 o'clock the Emperor and Czar landed and proceeded to the Barbarossa Bridge, where was stationed a guard of honor. Thence they were received by a guard of honor, consisting of the First Naval Battalion, which was drawn up in the castle yard. Later a grand reception was held at the Castle.

WAY OFF COLOR.

The hue of health! Who can mistake it! The white brow, the deepened tint of the cheek, those associated with brightness and animation of the eye, a cheery expression of the countenance, are infallible indices that the liver is performing its functions actively, and that consequently digestion and the bowels are undisturbed. If, however, the complexion and eyelids have a sallow tint, or the face is drawn and void of brightness and animation, the bilious gland is almost certain to be out of order. Really the difficulty speedily, and with prompt results, is removed by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which promptly cleanses the system outward and inward, and gives the complexion a healthy and bright appearance, but also the sick headache, constipation, vertigo, burping, the tongue, nausea, sour breath and pains through the right side which characterize it. The liver and bowels are seriously involved in malaria, for which the Bitters is a sovereign specific. This medicine remedies with equal promptness, indigestion, biliousness, complaint, dyspepsia, rheumatism and nervousness.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.)
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 7.—Mayor William Wright, (whose name is being unmasked because he has failed to close up certain alleged gambling places within the city limits.) He has received anonymous communications asking him why he has not closed up the places and threatening him with public exposure if he fails to attend to the matter at once. The Mayor claims to have no knowledge of the resorts in question.

One of the many anonymous letters received alleges that although the Mayor had been notified true after time of the location of gambling places, he only sent the chief of police to notify the gamblers to stop until the agitation blew over.
